ago, employed as a flunkey in a cook car in which a gang of negroes who are employed by the Hutt Construction Co., of Kansas City, and who are engaged in doing some ballast work for the Union Pacific railway near this city, eat their meals. One week ago tonight Schults, during an extended state of intoxication, and because of which was discharged, started out with a pick handle to 'get' some negroes with whom he had been having trouble. The head cook of the gang tried to induce him to stay in the car and leave the negroes alone, but this he would not do. And some of the negroes 'beat him to it.'

that the average life of such a license in this state is less than thirty days, proves, if nothing else proves, that Kansas is dry. It is also charged that there are seven wholesale liquor dealers and twenty-four wholesale dealers in malt liquors. The facts are they are wholesale drug agency houses selling patent medicines outside of Kansas to their trade, and are not disposing of these patent medicines to Kansas drug stores as there is a law absolutely prohibiting these patent medicines in the state, and the law is enforced. This disposes of charge No. 2.

Charge No. 4 concerns the immates in the Cook county, Illinois, asylumi compared with the immates of the Kansas Insane Asylum. This is one of Mr. Fox's charges which is absolutely correct. I took the figures from a state charitable report and since that report was made transfers and changes have been made in the Cook county asylum and subtractions have been made from that asylum to the Illinois asylum, which render the statement untrue at this time, but it was true at the time it was made.

Charges Nos. 5, 6 and 8 concern the nortality from homicides and accimortality from homicides and accidental deaths and from kidney diseases, and the annual death rate of Kansas, Mr. Fox's charge is that my figures are manufactured and are not based upon statistics. I have before me the affidavit of Dr. J. S. Crumbine, secretary of the state board of health and dean of the medical college of the and dean of the medical college of the state university. Dr. Crumbine is not the paid agent of an association whose the paid agent of an association whose principal customers are the brothel, the gambler and the barkeeper, and he has no interest in keeping those institutions alive. (These figures show the death rate is much lower in Kansas from these diseases than the average state.)

The following are the sworn figures given by Dr. S. J. Crumbine, secretary of the state board of health:

Table No. III Mortality Statistics (U. S. Census) for 1911 as taken from the census reports.

Bulletin for March, 1914, gives figures for Kansas for 1912-1912.

Charge No. 9 is answered by the president of the State Bankers' association, E. E. Mullaney of Hill City, Kan., whose statement is submitted below, and the difference in figures results from drawing the figures off at different periods in the same year.

For the answer to charge No. 10 I submit the statement of the State Bankers' association given below.

For the answer to charge No. 12 I submit the current report of the Kansas state superintendent of schools, and someway I believe I shall rest my case with him rather than the agent of the brewers' association. He substantiates in his annual report my statement as to the college population of Kansas.

The Kansas supreme court has signed a statement on October 3, 1914, in which the chief justice and the justices declare as follows:

The prohibitory law is well enforced throughout the state It is as generally well enforced as any other criminal law. The enforcement of the law distinctly promotes social welfare and reduces to a minimum, economic waste consequent upon liquor traffic and allied evils. The saloon keeper and his commades have been excluded from the effective participation in the politics of the state.

That is why Mr. Fox of the brewers' association clamors against Kansas, and is why the model license association would like to get in.

What the Governor Says.

The governor of the state on September 30 signed the statement which follows:

What has prohibition done for Kansas?

well, for one thing, it has cleared to maral atmosphere. It has raised the it tellectual standars and in a material way it has brought under the market at has brought under the market at part of the great American desert! has brought health and happiness to countless thousands and given Kansa the lowest death rate of any state in the Union. With only $1.75 apent per capit for intoxicating liquora in Kansas agains $25 per capits for the same purpose in our sister state of Missouri, we are able to put the difference, $25.75, into new homes, schools, churches, and keep in our hig state schools almost twice as many students as Missouri with twice our population, and our schools have made impossible the return of the brewery to this state. Colorado, with half our population, has approximately eight hundred inmates in its penitentiary with the open saloon. Kansas, with twice Colorado's population, has but eight hundred mates in its penitentiary. Kansas has no saloons.

The president of the State Bankers' its enforcement has made a better state. And I wish to add at the end the statement of the president of the Kansas Medical society, Dr. W. F. Sawhill:

I have practiced over thirty years in a city of several thousand in a farming community and have an opportunity to note the workings of the prohibitory law in Kansas. During that time I have seen the amount of drunkenness diminiahed 75 per cent absolutely; and diseases that we know are caused by the excessive use of liquor have diminiahed greatly. In my earli : days of practice here I would see young men from the country drunk every Saturday night. I have not seen one for several years and my opportunity is the same. There is but one conclusion for any honest man who has lived in Kansas as I have to make, and that is that prohibition has done more for the people of the state morally, financially and physically than any other one agency.

Now, then, who shall be believed—a man who fakes headlines and garbles statistics in order that he may promote a business in which only the makers of criminals and breakers of homes and robbers of the poor are benefited, or all these men heads of the great husiness
